From Rio de Janeiro we received confirmation of intelligence that the Paraguay difficulty had been pacifically settled. The bases of arrangement were completed February 1. The report of General Urquiza claiming all the honor of intervention between the United States and Paraguay was not received with a very good grace at Rio Janeiro. One hundred and fifty mules and a large amount of stores have been shipped from San Francisco to British Columbia, to be used in surveying a route for the British Pacific Rail-

At Buenos Ayres apprehensions were preva-lent that one consideration of Gen. Urquira's services in mediating the North American quarrel, would be the unlimited aid of Lopez in an expedition against Eucnos Ayres.

Judge Read, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, has decided that "an orphan is a father-less child." This is in opposition to the di-rectors of the Girard College, who had refused admission into their institution of a boy whose mother was living.

A colored girl of fifteen years, named Sarah J. E. Manly, was arrested in St. Louis on Wednesday as a runaway slave, but, on a hearing being had before Justice Hequembourg, there appearing no evidence that she was a runaway, was discharged as free. The Univers (French paper) says of Walker the Penitont: "Let William Walker devote to the defense of truth the remarkable talents he has hitherto wasted on unjust causes, and his unexpected conversion may become an important event for religion." The Central Committee of the Republican party, in St. Louis, presented to C. L. Bernays, editor of the Anzeiger des Westens, on Monday, a massive gold watch and chain, in consideration of his efficient services in the late municipal campaign. H. W. Beecher says: The cares and infelicities of life, which are spoken of as "hindrance to grace," may be hindrances, but they are the only helps it has in the world. The voice of provocation is the voice of God calling us to the practice of patience.

A bill is going through the New York Legislature for commuting the sentence of death passed on Mrs. Hartung, of Albany—the Gov-ernor having refused to pardon her. She says it was her paramour who poisoned her husband against her will. We learn that during service in the Church of Weissenbern, near Ulm, in Germany, one of the pillars gave way, and in a moment the whole building came down. Thirteen persons lost their lives, and twenty others were more or less injured. The Grand Jury of Wayne County, Ind., recently indicted James Hope, of Richmond, for keeping a billiard table for games. On the case coming to trial, the presecution failed to prove that a billiard table was a gaming apparatus, and Mr. Hope was accordingly ac-

We further consider Henry Stehling an aider and abettor in the affair."

A SLIGHT ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE .- Our readers will remember, says the Troy Whig, that in June, 1851, Mr. Francis Bourasso, of the firm of Bourasso & Pruyn, left this city on a royage to Europe. A few months afterward news came to his family that he had been drowned near the coast of France, while out in an open boat endeavoring to catch the Bordeaux steamer. As he had a considerable amount of money with him at the time, it was feared that he had been murdered, and as years passed and nothing was heard of him, his friends had settled down to the conviction that such had been his fate. Within a few months a suit was commenced by his representatives against an Insurance Company, which had issued a policy upon his life, and the case was to have been tried at the next Circuit Court.

A few weeks since, Mr. Richard Bloss, of Troy, received a letter from New Orleans, from a stranger, inquiring after a family by the name of Bourasso. Mr. B. answered the letname of Bourasso. Mr. B. answered the let-ter giving the information he desired, and he soon received another communication of his safety. Dr. Bloss started with this letter in his pocket to the residence of Mrs. Bourasso, but on his way was thrown out of his carriage, the letter was lost, and Mr. B. remained in a state of insensibility for some time, and unable to communicate the glad tidings to the person most interested. He was at last enabled to make known these facts to Mrs. Bourasso, and a corespondence followed, in which mutual explanations were made between the long separated husband and wife. It seems Mr. Bourasso became concerned in some Government difficulties, and was imprisoned in France. On his escape he heard that his wife had married again, and was never disabused of this erroneous impression until recently. Mr. Bourasso will be in his former home again in a few weeks.

BRITISH ANNEXATION.—The news of the sovereignty of the Feejee Islands is confirmed. sovereignty of the Feejee Islands is confirmed. Those islands are a group numbering 211, of which 80 are inhabited. The largest is about 360 miles in circumference, and the next about 300. They spread over about 40,000 square miles of the Pacific Ocean, directly on the track between Australia and Panama and British Columbia. Almost every island has a harbor; many of these are capacious enough for a whole navy. Feejee is 1,500 miles from Sydney, and about 1,000 from New Zealand. The group is the key and center of Polynesia. The group is the key and center of Polynesia. Between it and our colonies lies the large French island of New Caledonia, on the same side the New Hebrides, and on the other side, to its north and east, stretch the Navigators', for its north and east, stretch the Navigators', Friendly and Society Isles. The area of the two large islands is computed at about equal to that of Belgium, 11,000 square miles: and of the whole group about equal to that of Holland, above 13,000. The climate is described as not unlike that of Ceylon. The productions are diversified and rich. At least fifty or thousand of the natives have become Christiane.

MISPLACING A SWITCH .- The case against John McLaughlin, of Harlem Station, eight miles west of Chicago, on the G. & C. U. R. R., for the alleged misplacing of a switch, whereby a passenger train was thrown off and the fireman killed, some weeks ago, was brought before Justice Akin and Milliken, on Monday, for examination. It appears that the father of McLaughlin, who was a farmer, was run over and killed by a train on the G. & C. U. R. R., in December 1857, and a suit was brought by the widow against the Company. It is said that John McLaughlin had threatened, at different times and to different persons, that he would have revenge on the Railroad Company, and on the conductor (Webber) whose train ran over his father. After witnesses for the prosecution were heard, the defense set up an alibi, and called witnesses to prove the same, while the confession which he once made was repre-sented as the boasting of a drunken boy. The Court withheld their decision till next day.

CUBA IN THE CORTES,-The Spanish Premier delivered an elaborate speech in the Cortes, on Cuba becoming annexed to the United States. In that speech he made known to the Deputies the fact that the Government, in assuming the attitude which it believed the honor and the interest of the country exacted, (the defense of the Island from invaders,) consulted only their own resources and their own sentiment. The Government of the Queen of Spain in the event of realising the momentous necessity of sus-taining a conflict in order to preserve the integ-rity of the Spanish territory in the Peninsula, and in the regions beyond the seas, did not indulge the hope that other nations and other governments would aid it in the task; it counted solely upon its own strength and its own sentiment; it neither asked, nor believed that there could be a necessity in any event for foreign assistance. LA GUERRABELLA .- The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald thus writes of this lady: "The most interesting feature was the lady: "The most interesting feature was the debut of the beautiful American prima donna, La Guerrabella, who, although a debutante, to the surprise of every one, treads the boards like an old actress. With a face and form of like an old actress. With a face and form of classical symmetry, she sang with great distinctness and traditional accuracy that most ungrateful and difficult role of Donna Eliza, and we agree with our confrere, Galignani, that 'she will be a valuable acquisition to any lyric that's will be a valuable acquisition to any lyric that's was bore soon to see her in a char-'she will be a valuable acquisition to any lyric theater.' We hope soon to see her in a character better adapted to her great ability and highly finished style. Persiani still showed the great artiste she has been, as did also Frezzolini, and Tucchini was the prince of buffos. Mario looked well, but, like La Guerrabella, was misplaced in the opera. The Italian Opera is fast losing ground from great mismanagement." ment.

TRAGICAL EVENT .- A strange affair is related in the Gazetfe des Tribunaux: As a nobleman of Fuendalajon, Province of Saragossa, was four days ago, with his two daughters, taking a ride on horseback on the road to Borja, followed by three servants, a young man, fashionably dressed, but with his face covered with a mask, galloped up, and without saying a word, fired from a double-barreled pistol two shots at the elder of the young ladies, after which he continued his route and dispressed. continued his route and disappeared. The continued his route and disappeared. The young lady, being mortally wounded, fell from her saddle and expired. On examination it appeared that she had been struck by two balls, one of which had penetrated to the heart, the other near to the shoulder-blade. It is not doubted that the assassin was a rejected suitor of the lady, but as she had refused more than one applicant for her hand, it is not known which it was.

HONORABLE DOGS.—The New York papers tell us that an affair of rather an exciting character occurred on Monday in the Assembly. After an unsuccessful effort on the part of Mr. Rutherford to speak in favor of a part of bit. Rutherford to speak in layer of a resolution, the previous question was about being put by the Speaker, when he exclaimed, "Why, you set of thieving dogs, do you mean to choke me down altogether?" The Speaker then ordered Mr. Rutherford to keep silent, which he refused to do. A call was then made by the Speaker of the House to protect the chair and preserve order, when Mr. Rutherford said, "Go to hell, all of you, you dogs." Mr. Rutherford was then removed, struggling violently, by the Sergeant-at-arms and two assistants, and held under arrest for the remainder of the evening. der of the evening.

NICARAGUA.—We learn from Washington that the Cabinet have come to the unanimous determination that strong measures must be resorted to in the case of Nicaragua. The Paraguay squadron, on its return, will be employed to force the reinstatement of our Transit rights, and the American mails and managers will. and the American mails and passengers will, if necessary, be protected from sea to sea, until guarantees can be obtained from Nicaragus.

FEMALE PHYSICIANS.—The Pittsburg Dis patch is favorable to female physicians. That journal says: They will be hardly objected to by modest and reflecting women, however fashionable and "smart" it may seem to sneer at every woman who undertakes to rectify the many atrocious wrongs of her sex. Few are aware of the progress that has been made of late years in securing facilities for obtaining the highest medical and surgical instruction among women. The Philadelphia Medical College for Females is said, by those well in-formed, to be second to none in that city; and a diploma from that institution ranks the lady who receives it as high as any male graduate of the University or of old Jefferson. One brave young lady of our city—Miss Theresa Dako—has graduated there, and hangs out her shingle in Philadelphia. Another lady, more mature years, and of seven years' study Mrs. Porter—also a graduate of the Philadel-phia College, has set up here, and will, we are assured, soon secure the patronage of her own sex, in cases peculiar to them.

HAYTI.-A merchant writing to his friend at Boston, from Cape Haytien, says: "Since the country has been rid of that monster, Souuque, so great a relief is felt that the people are not weary of appliating the acts of the President, and of shouting in the streets 'Vive Geffrard.' In good truth, the government, as Geffrard. In good truth, the government, as administered by him, is taking steps in the right direction. Our position is improving to an extent highly satisfactory, and well-disposed people have strong faith in the future. How-ever, the financial affairs of the government require immediate relief, and the subject of depreciated paper money, with which the coun-try is flooded, occupies the attention of politi-cal economists."

A FORTUNE AND A BRIDE, -- Jose Martinez, a native of Buenos Ayres, now twenty-five years of age, when sixteen years old ran away from home, and after awhile brought up in Boston, where he has been gaining an honest livelihood in a sail loft. A few weeks since he received information that his parents were dead, and that their estate, valued at $300,000, was at his disposal as heir; and on Tuesday he sailed in the bark Emily Wilder for home, not only to claim his fortune, but a bride—the latter matter having been arranged by proxy.

Capt. Newton S. Givens, of the United State Army, died of apoplexy on the 2d of March, at San Antonio, Texas. He was a native of Trimble County, Kentucky.

Dr. Gro. W. Phillips, Cincinnati, Ohio:—Haying used several small bottles of your "Cough Syrup, personally and in my family, and having seen its effects on others, in numerous instances of severe cold and coughs, I most cheerfully recommend it as an infallible remedy in all such cases. If this Syrup were in goneral use, I confidently believe a large majority of the colds, accompanied by coughs, that now terminate in Consumption, would be effectually arrested. In fact, I can see no necessity for any, who can obta this remedy, being thus afflicted.

Bespectfully yours,
